

Steve MacNeill

At a very young age, I became fascinated with anything that had moving parts. I would spend hours in the library, reading about cars, motors and machines. I learned how to take apart and fix lawnmowers, motor bikes and washing machines.

Then I started working on cars. By the time I was 16, I was fixing my friends' cars. It didn't take too long to realize that this was something I really liked and something I was good at.

A year later, I got my first job as an auto mechanic and I've been doing it ever since. I've been operating my own auto repair shop for more than 25 years.

Changing times

The industry has changed quite a bit in the past 30 years so I've taken courses and attended workshops to keep up with the latest technology, practices and techniques. But most of all, I'm committed to finding the best solutions for my customers.

I have a very dedicated staff and we give our customers an honest assessment and high-quality work - at affordable prices. Although we have all the latest equipment, we do only the work that is necessary for your safety and comfort.

Formula for success

I don't advertise. Just about all of our customers have been referred by others who have had their cars serviced here.

At MacNeill's Auto Repair, our success is pretty simple. We explain what repairs are needed, we do it well and we stand by our work. That's why our customers keep coming back.
